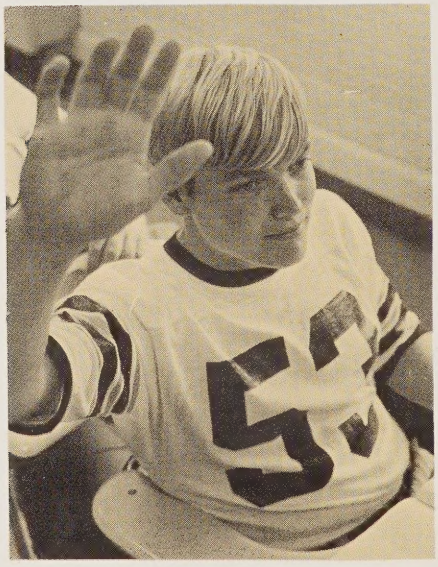
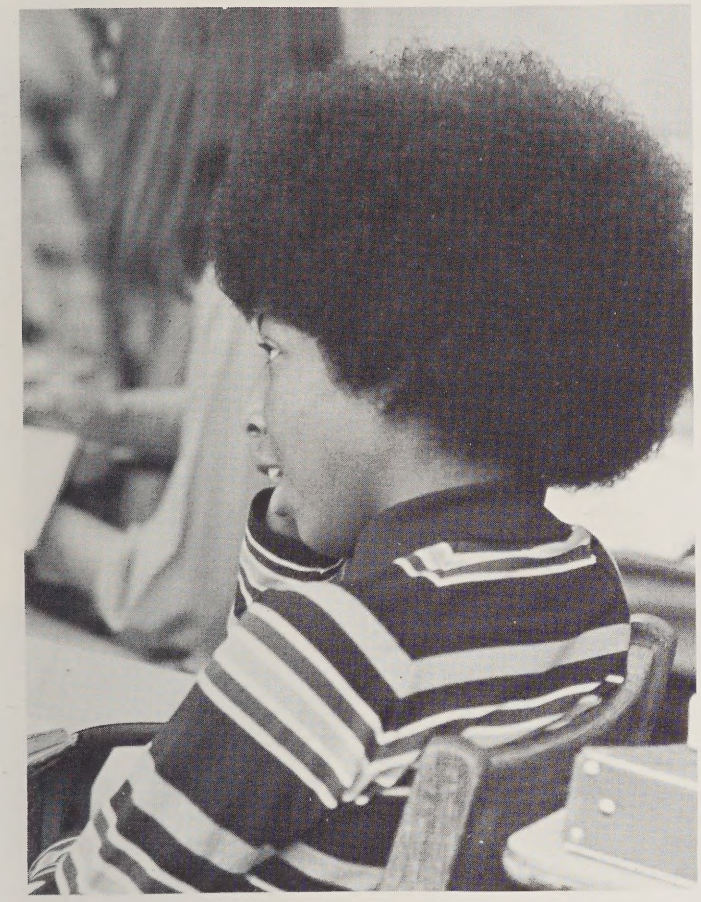
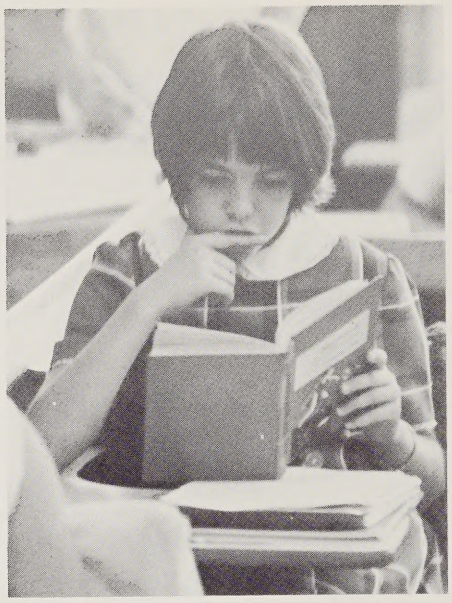
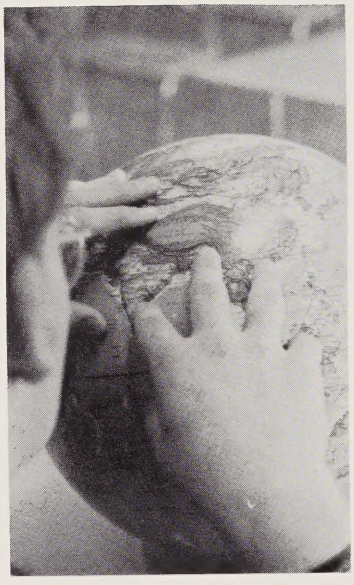
Horizons,
Endless,
Capture the imagination,
Marking man's continued search.
Within our four brief years
at Edneyville High
Man has reached the moon.
Where next?
What then?

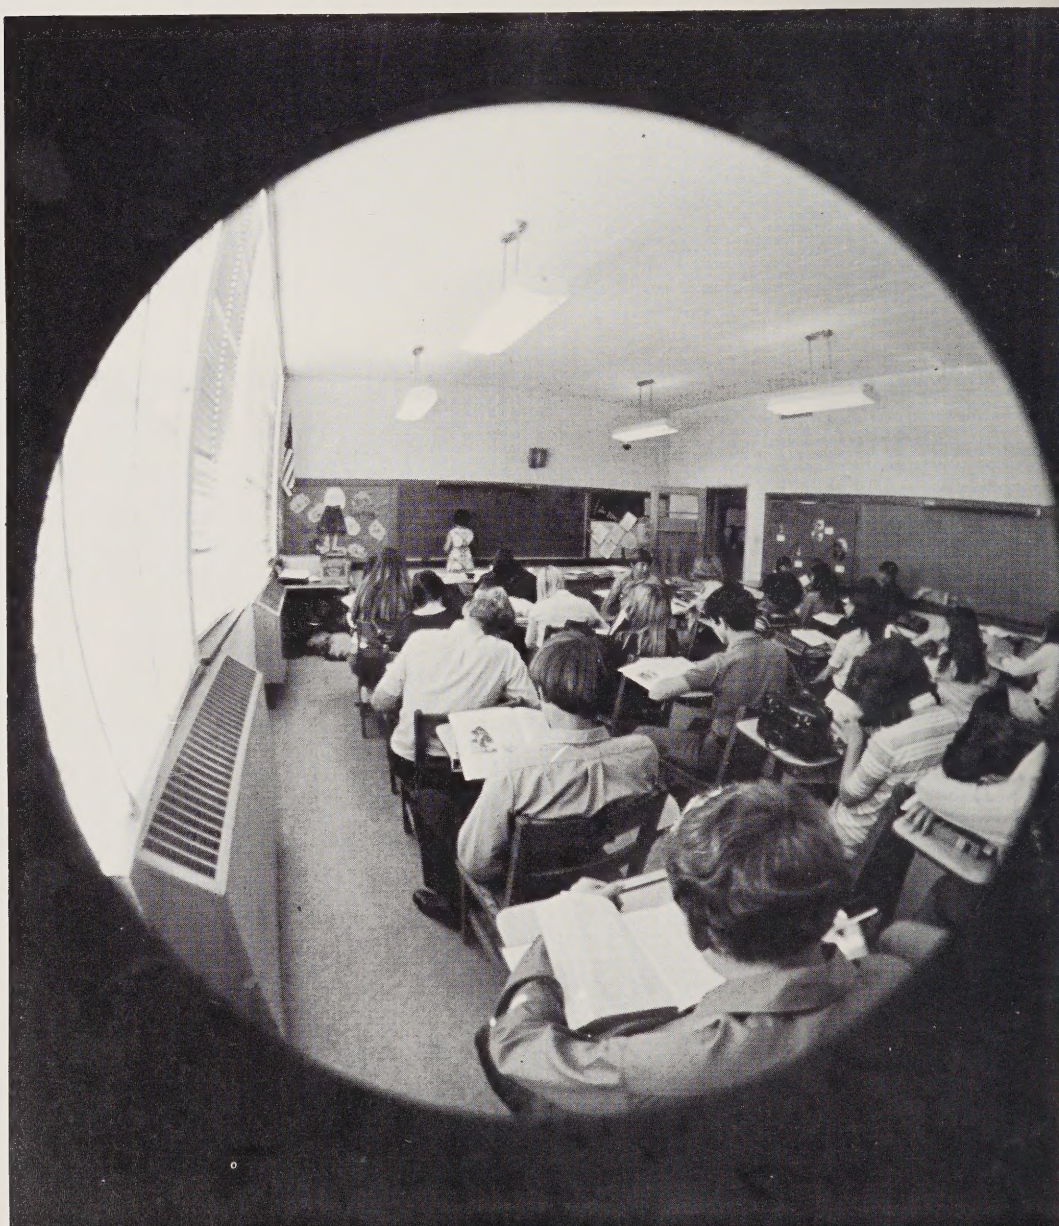


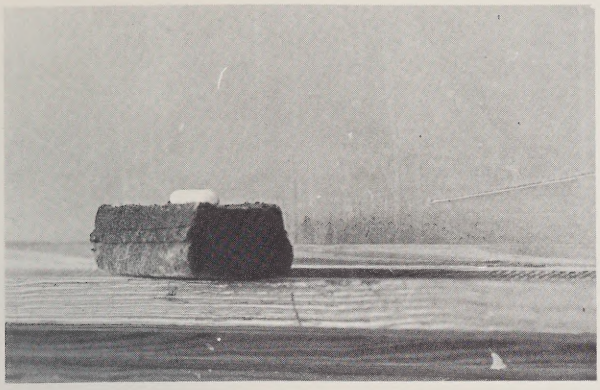


The human spirit,
Restless,
Continues to reach out,
Bridging the gap between men,
More important than attaining a niche
In the infinite Universe.
Vast horizons of human relations
Are calling
For us.









Knowledge
Makes us bold to reach out
Though the Universe,
Staggers our imagination.
We face a future
Of uncertainty and doubt,
But pessimism does not triumph.
We keep our eyes on the far horizons;
We will find the right road.

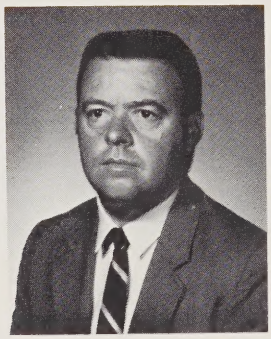
ACADEMICS

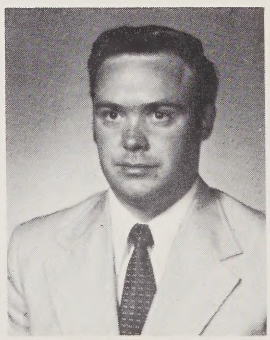
Science

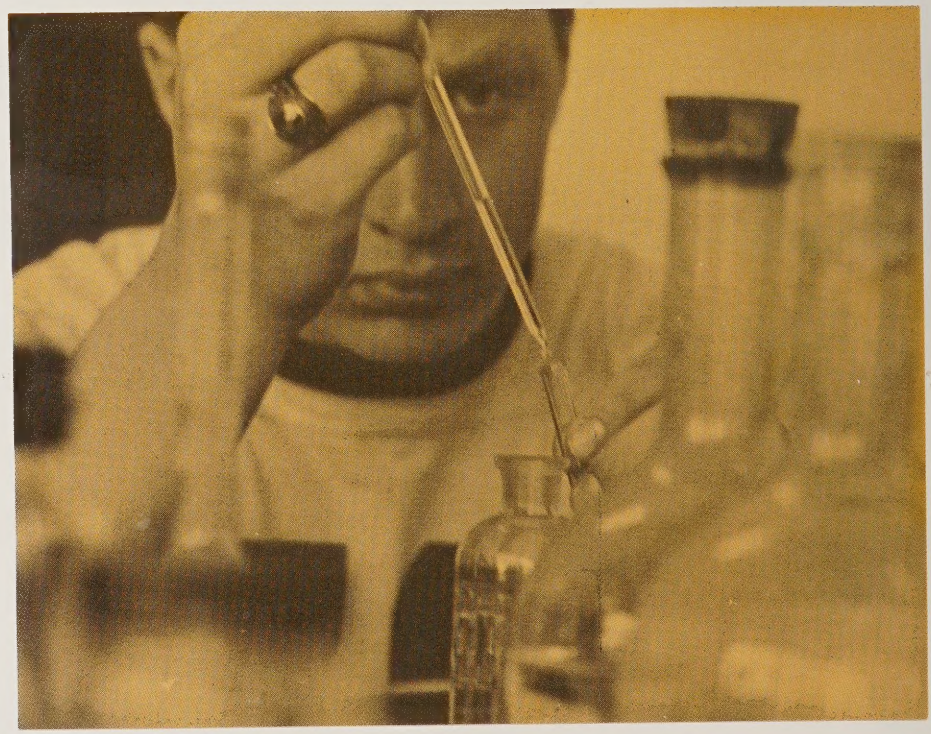
Each course differed from the rest; each day had its own fascination and problems. To search out was always our aim.

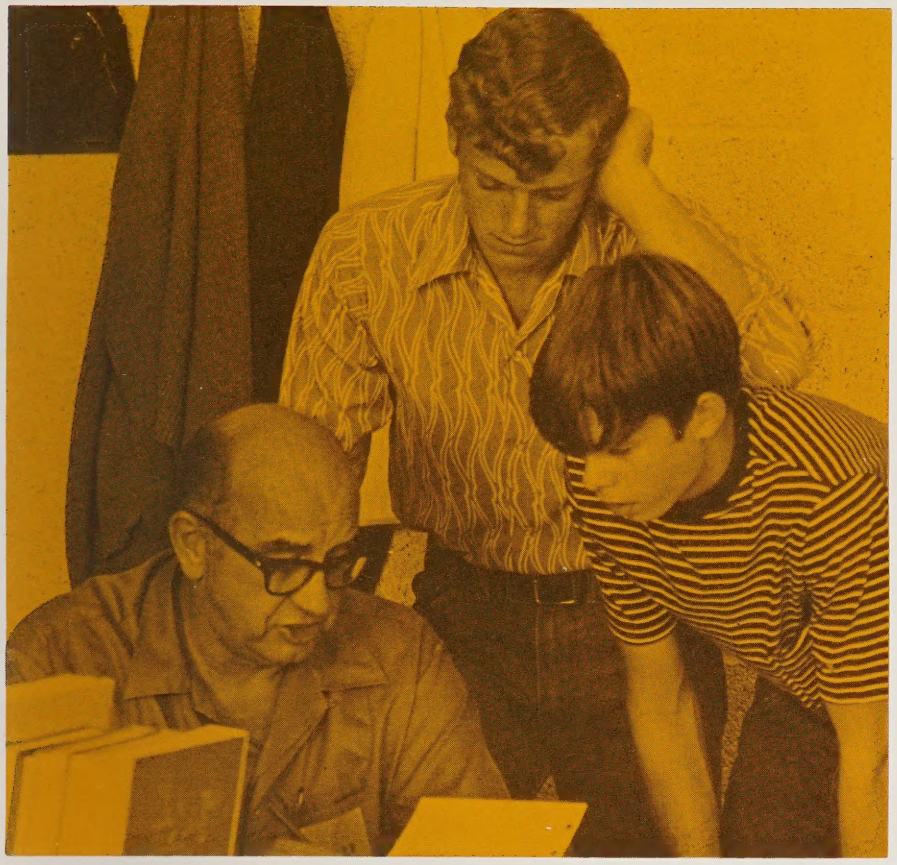
Mr. Tom Pryor



Mr. Glenn Henderson



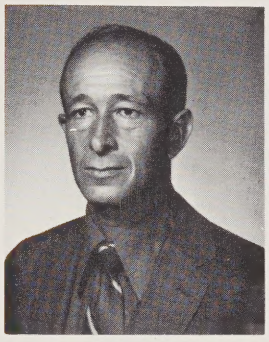




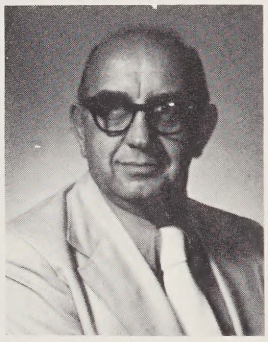
Mathematics

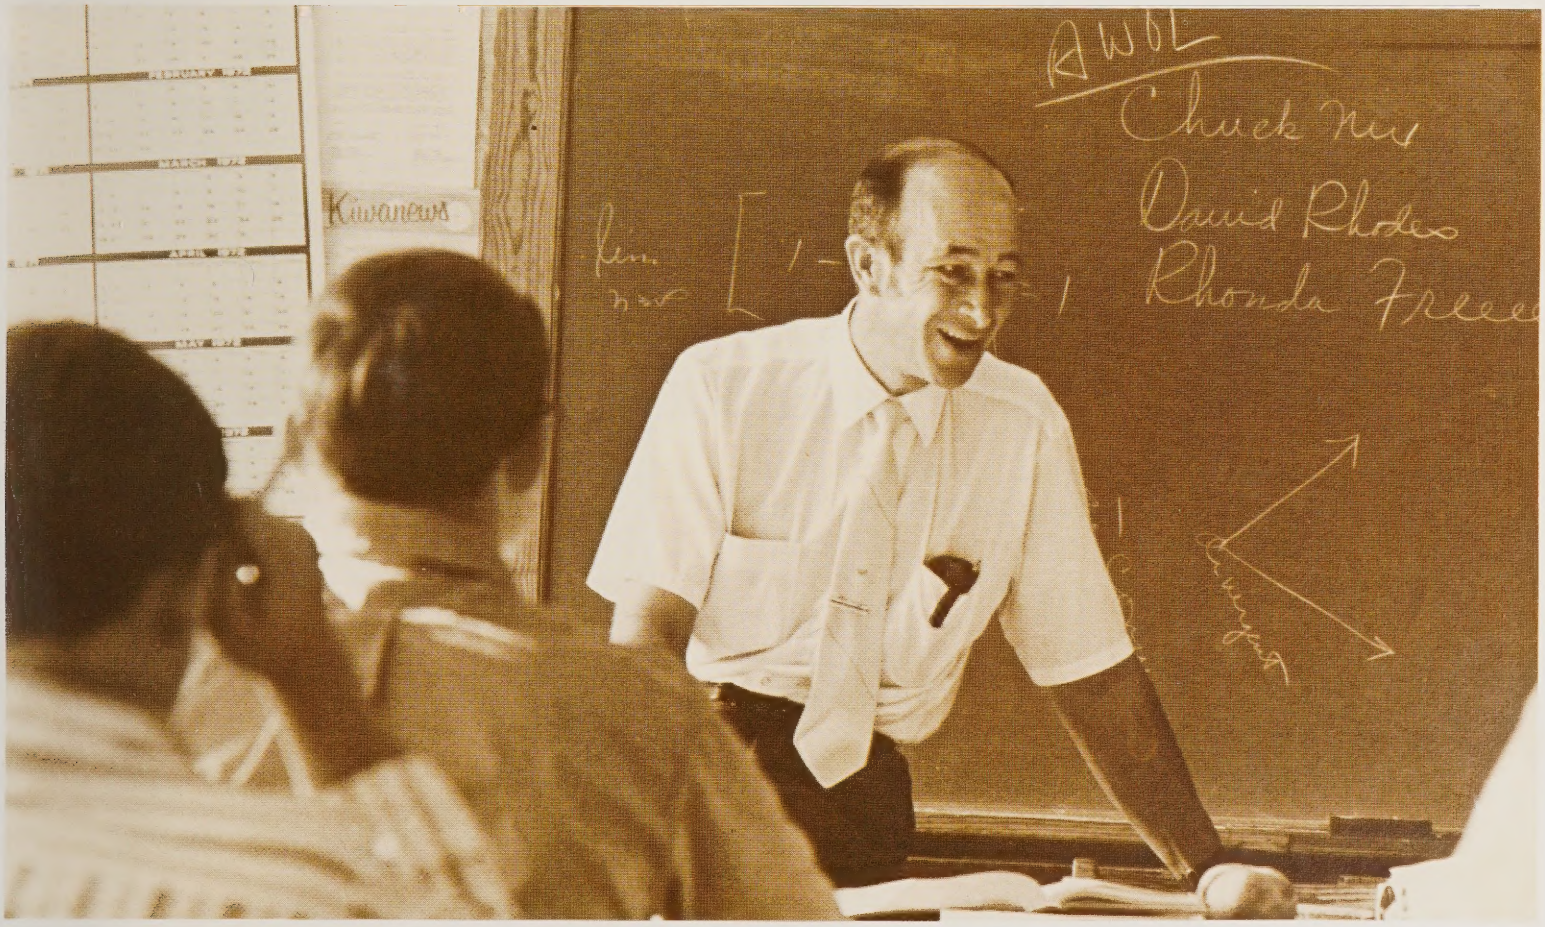
Topics ranged from addition and subtraction to slide rule and trigonometry. There were times when one was lost beyond all hope, unable to figure out just what in the world he needed with a formula. But soon with a little help, he was on his way again.

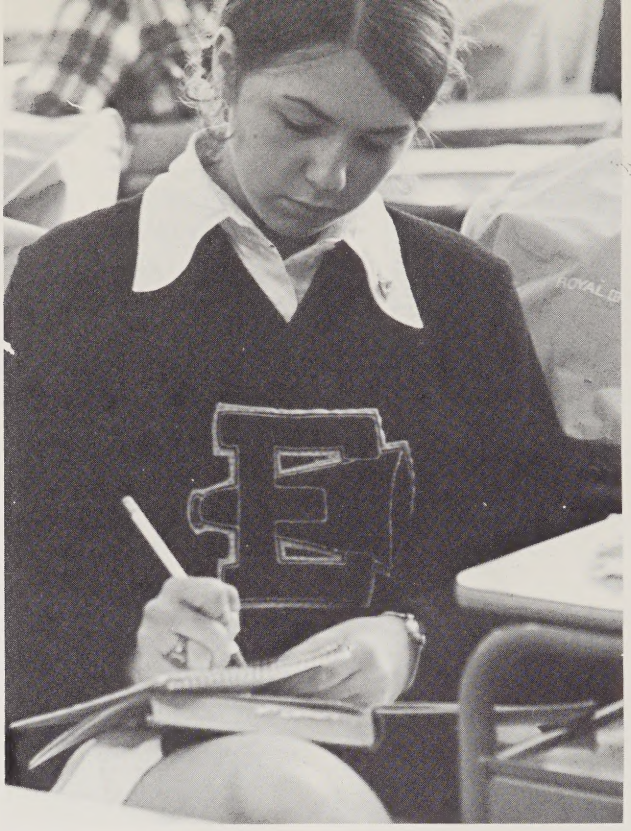
Mr. French Rogers

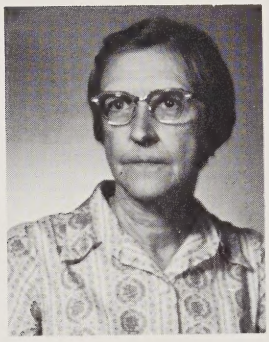


Mr. Welch Tester

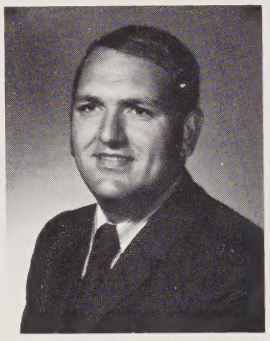








Miss Elizabeth Cody

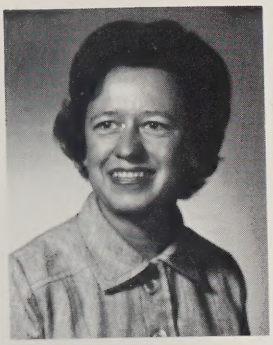


Mr. Henry Coble

Business

The problems that one encounters in a business class can be quite perplexing. Long periods of writing shorthand prove long and tiresome, just as the unfamiliarity of a typewriter may be infuriating.

The merits of such aggravations are the increasing ability to type, the knowledge of shorthand, and the helpful experience of office practice.

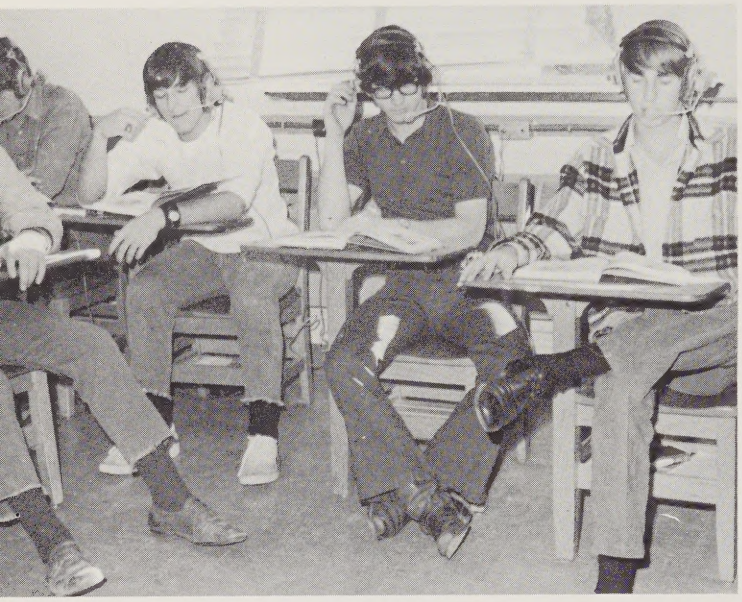


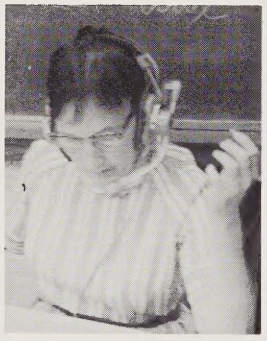
Introduction to Vocations

The Introduction to Vocations Class went on several field trips this year, such as the excursion to Gerber, shown below. Through the direction of Miss Margaret Blocker the I. V. freshmen became acquainted with the different aspects of professions. In addition to going on field trips, classes listened to speakers, and supplemented the usual book work with activities.

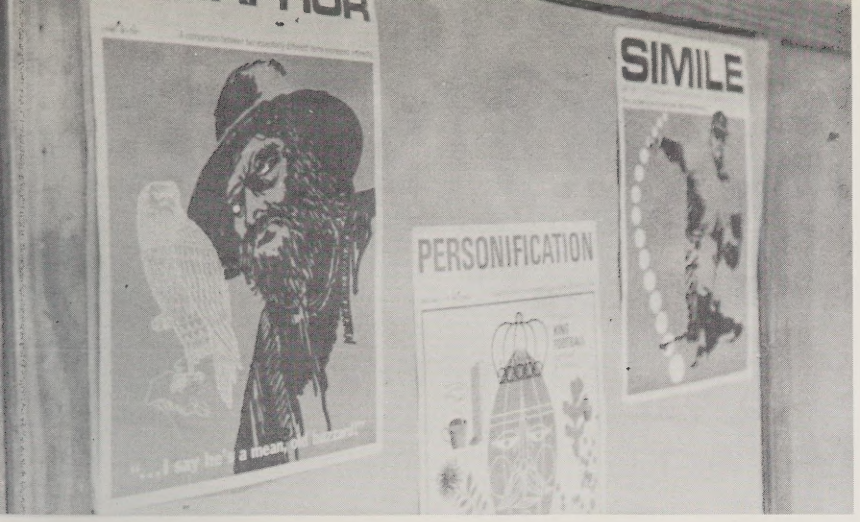
French

Earphones and language labs provided a change from the classic dullness of texbooks in classes.



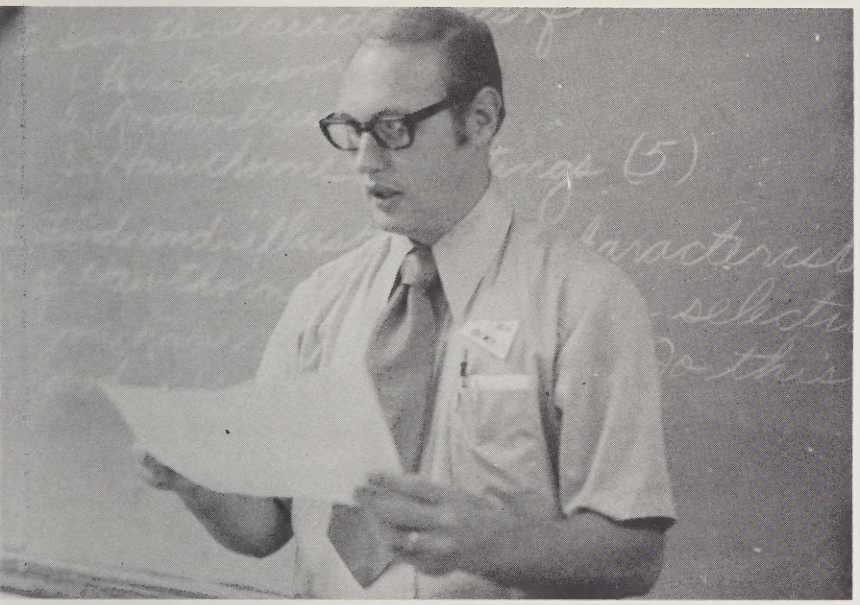


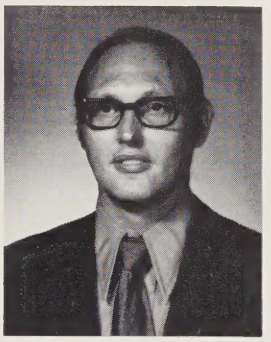
Mrs. Annie Burley



English

Mr. Pace emphasized that the most important task of the English language is communication. His sophomore and junior classes tried their skills in communicating with one another. Similes, metaphors, novels, and adjectives were all part of the experience. The seniors viewed life through literature taught by Mrs. Annie Burley.

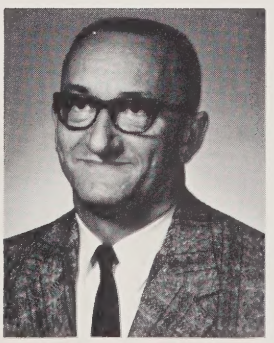




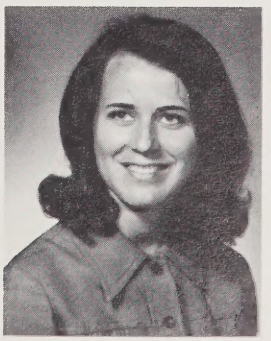
Mr. Dan Pace

Social Studies

Becoming involved with the present world requires a knowledge of previous events. Mrs. Pace and Mr. Summey introduce the world of history to students. Besides teaching history, Mrs. Pace also taught three classes of freshman English.



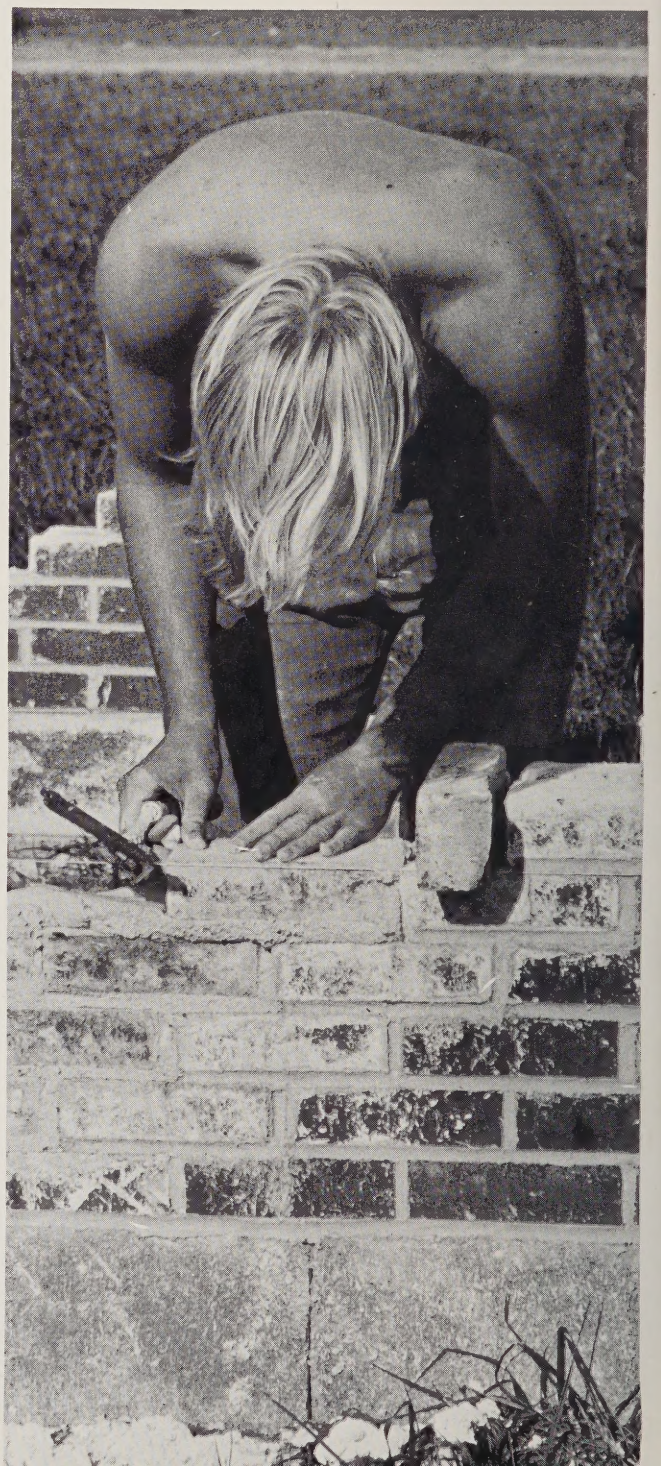
Mr. John Summey



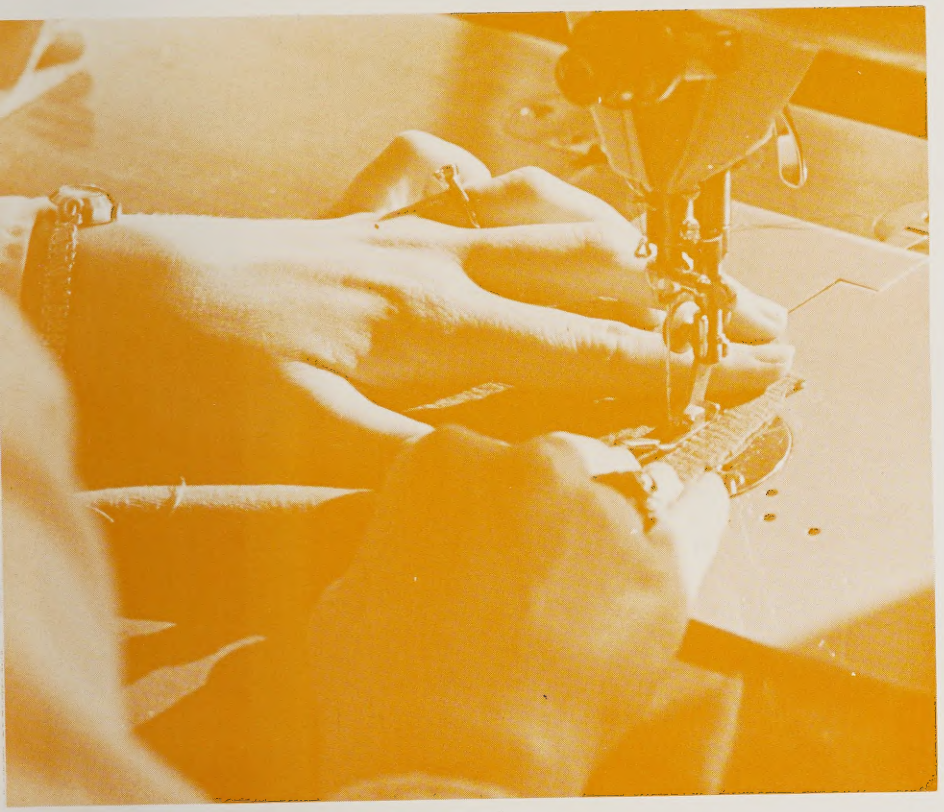
Mrs. Rosemary Pace

Trade and Industry

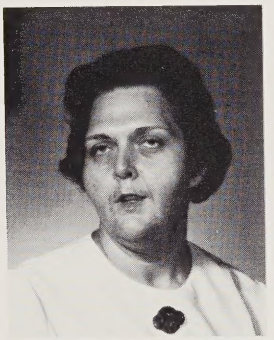
With brick and mortar Mr. Lancaster's crew builds toward the future.



Future Homemakers of America



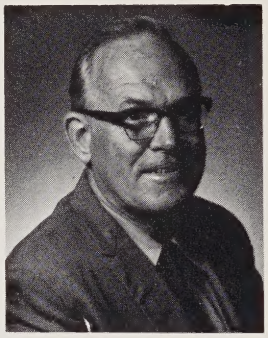
Rich smells of hot spaghetti drifted down the halls letting everyone know a home economics class was trying out a new recipe. The sound of humming sewing machines was an indication of creative fashions underway. Miss Messer presided over the various activities. The F.H.A. officers were Denice Jones, president; Anice Jones, vice president; Sandy Youngblood, secretary; Nancy Garren, treasurer; and Karen Justus, historian.



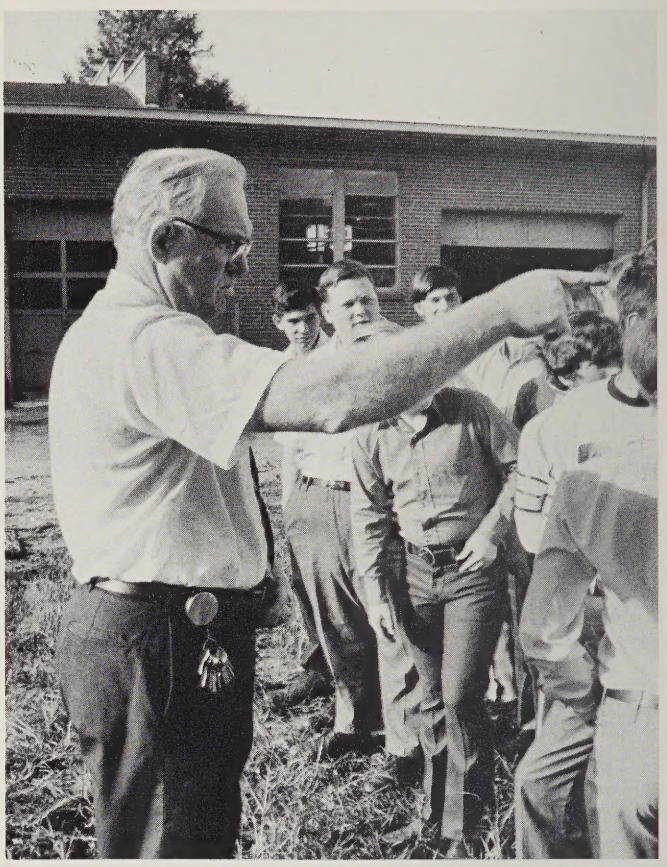
Miss Frances Messer

Future Farmers of America

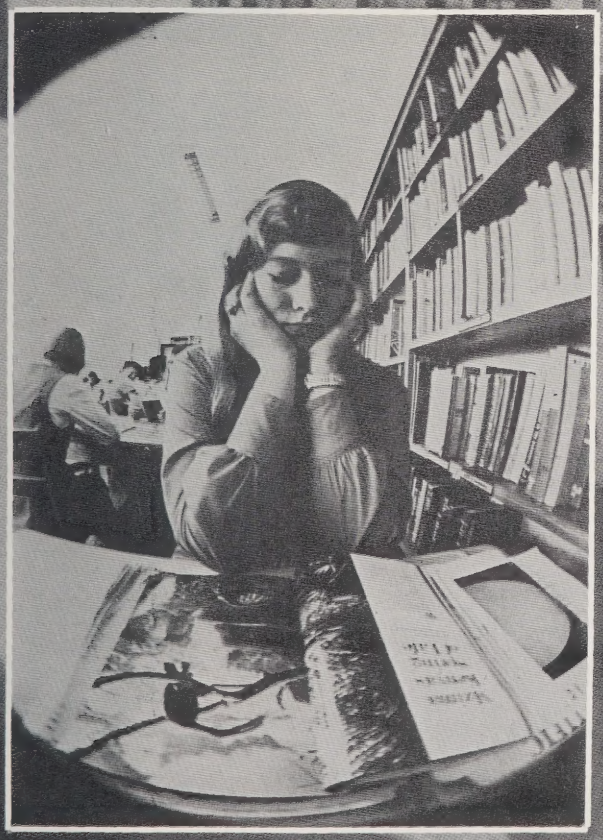
At school, amidst the buzzing of saws and the familiar clanking of various tools, Mr. Davis strives to prepare his boys for their obligations in a future of farming or mechanics. The leaders of the F. F. A. this year were Alton Cox, president; Billy T. Williams, vice president; Allen Rogers, secretary; Robert Knowles, treasurer; and Don Lancaster, reporter.

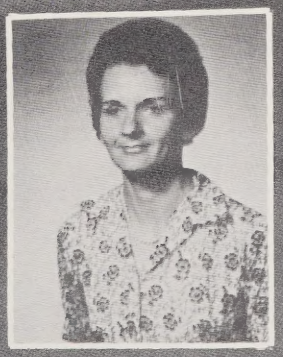


Mr. Gaylerd Davis



Library Science





With the assistance of Mrs. Lacky, all English classes, especially juniors and seniors, were able to find needed information. The well-displayed current magazines and newspapers were enthusiastically read. Eye-catching bulletin boards enlivened the atmosphere of the library.

Chorus

The chorus entered a new year with forty-two members who demonstrated a zeal for performing. In addition to singing at assemblies, they presented a program at Oteen. Featured during the year were a special Christmas production and a spring concert. The officers of the Chorus this year were Rhonda Stepp, president; Chuck Nix, vice president; Janice Pryor, secretary; and Nancy Parris, treasurer.

Band

Despite squeaks, flat horns, wrong notes, and mass confusion, hard work in the music department still resulted in harmony. The band, an integral part of school life, promotes spirit and enthusiasm at games; under the energetic leadership of Miss Wilson, the band has proved to be an organization that has added much to the spirit of the school.

Administration

County School Board Staff

LEFT: Mr. Glenn Marlow served this year as the superintendent of Henderson County Schools. BELOW: Mr. Sammy Reese assumed this year his new responsibility as assistant superintendent. Mr. Bill Barnwell continues to serve as assistant superintendent in charge of federal aid programs. Dr. Le Zolinger joins the staff as the new supervisor of secondary education. Mrs. Laura Davis is the new supervisor of elementary education.

Mr. Sammy Reese

Mr. Bill Barnwell

Dr. Le Zolinger

Mrs. Laura Davis

Annual Staff

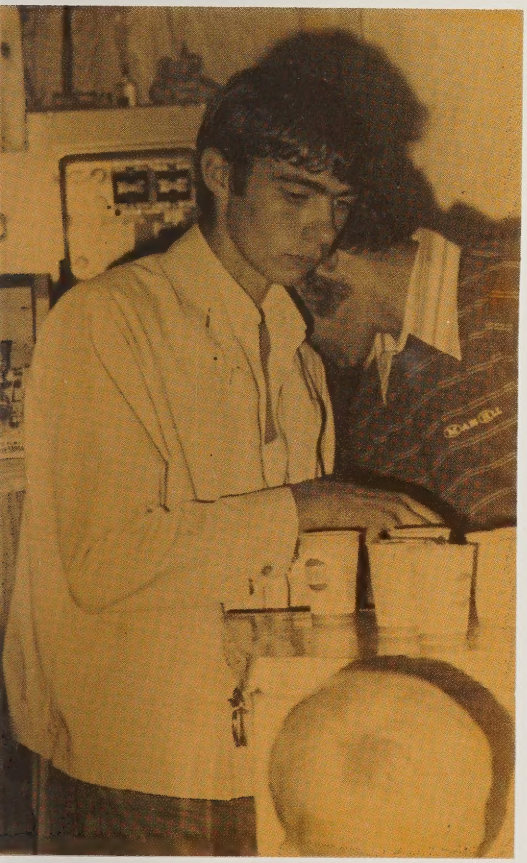
A secluded, underfurnished backstage closet; a staff unfamiliar with the processes of making a yearbook; insufficient working materials and inferior lighting - despite all of these drawbacks, the annual staff was determined to produce a book of which Edneyville High School could be proud. Under the guidance of Mr. Pace, the staff - Janet D. Laughter, Nancy Parris, Sheila Baldwin, Pat Taylor, Gayle Booth, Tommy Corn, John Rogers, Diane Krug, Wayne Burley, Lynn Garren, Pauline Laughter, and Margie Whitlock - feel that they have fulfilled their aim.

SCHOOL LIFE

Student Council

Many Student Council members found that Homecoming '71 was not entirely just an extra special football game. There was much work involved in sponsoring Homecoming and in representing one's class in student government. The meetings, led by President Doug Moon, offered opportunities for the expression of opinions and suggestions by each representative, furnishing a link between the administration and students. Miss Blocker, RIGHT: has given unselfishly of her time as a sponsor for Student Council. The other officers are vice-president, Danny Jones; secretary, Gayle Booth; and treasurer, Karen Youngblood.

Key Club



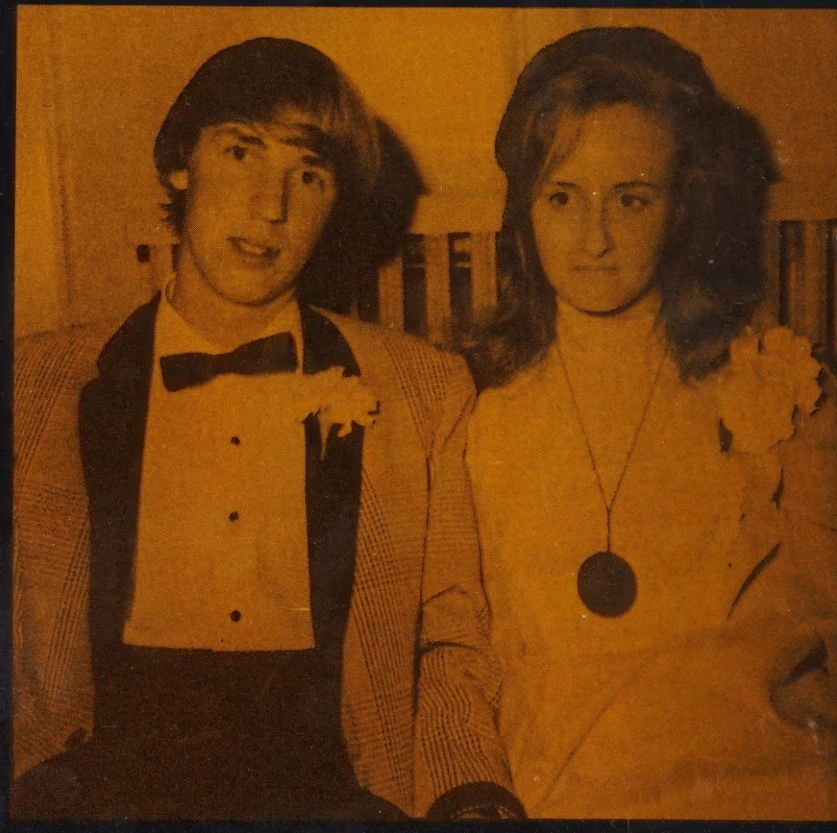
Following the motto "We build," the Edneyville High Key Club has tried to improve itself, the school, and the community through its many service projects which included purchasing a $350 3-M photo-copier for school use, and supervising parking in the student lots. Through the efforts of advisor Mr. "Pop" Rogers, Division 1-B West Lt. Governor, Doug Moon; president, David Henderson; vice-president, Joe Connor; secretary, Wayne Burley; and treasurer, Jay Rogers, the club has tried its best to fulfill this year's Key Club international theme to "enrich men's existence."

Scout Troop 605

Under the leadership of Scoutmaster Minor Wilson the Scout Troop became one of the most active organizations in school. A service activity for the school was parking cars at home football games. Pictured above are LEFT TO RIGHT: Eagle Scouts David Henderson, Greg Lancaster, Wayne Cox, and Kenny Cox.

Powder Puff Football

This is the time each year when the girls experience football . . . complete with all its agonies, joys, defeats, and victories. It is also the time when guys get a taste of cheerleading.

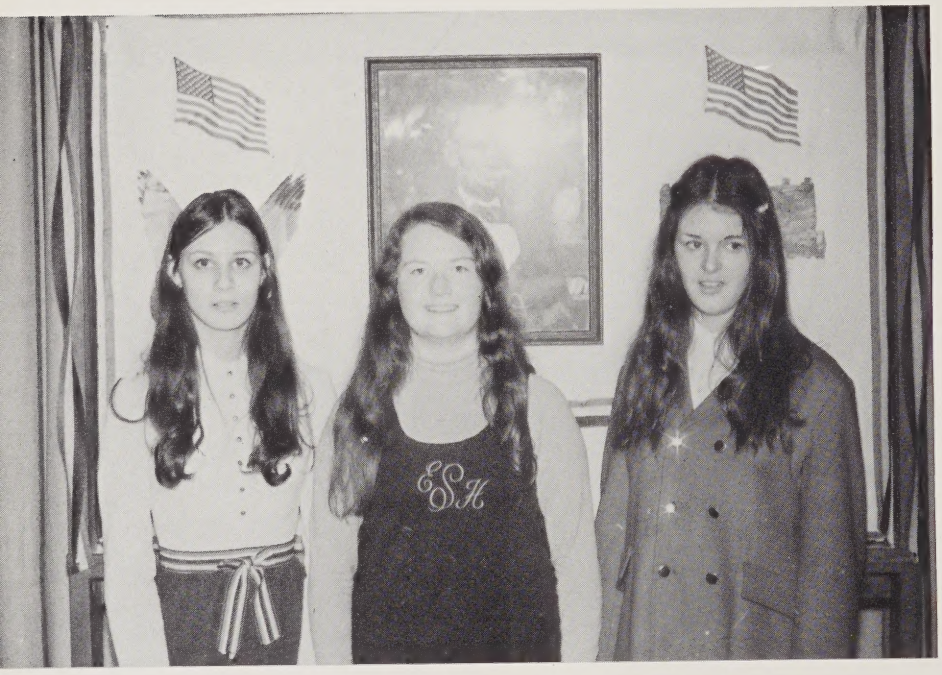


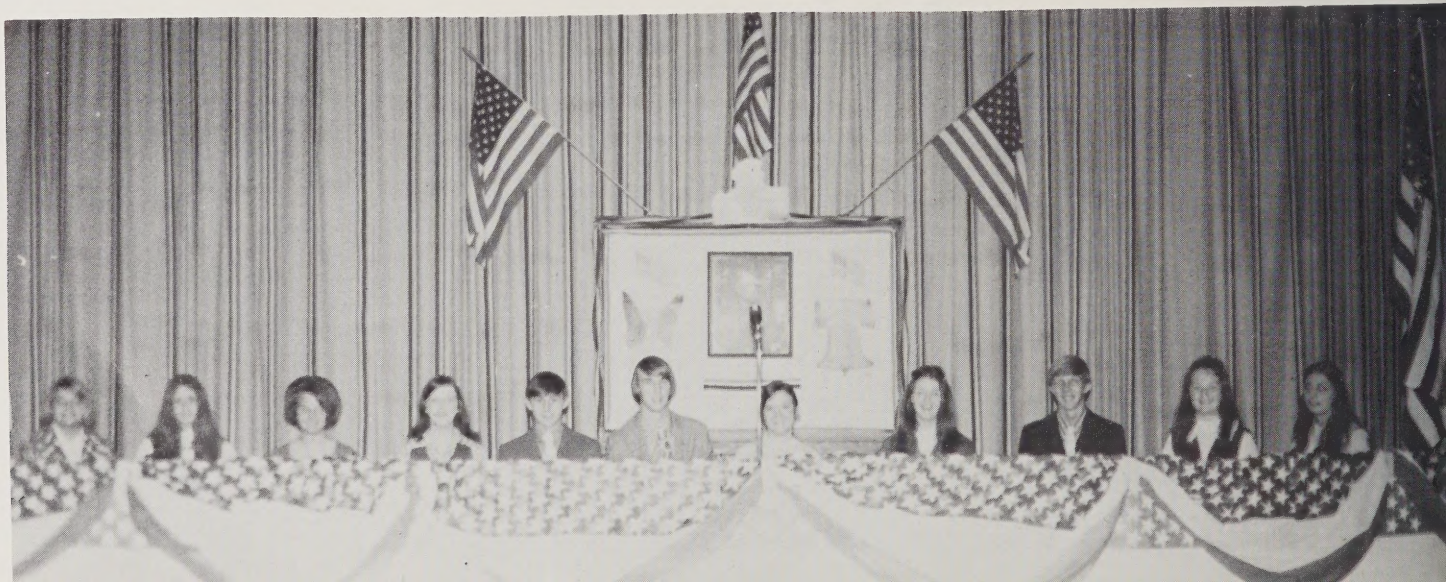
Junior — Senior

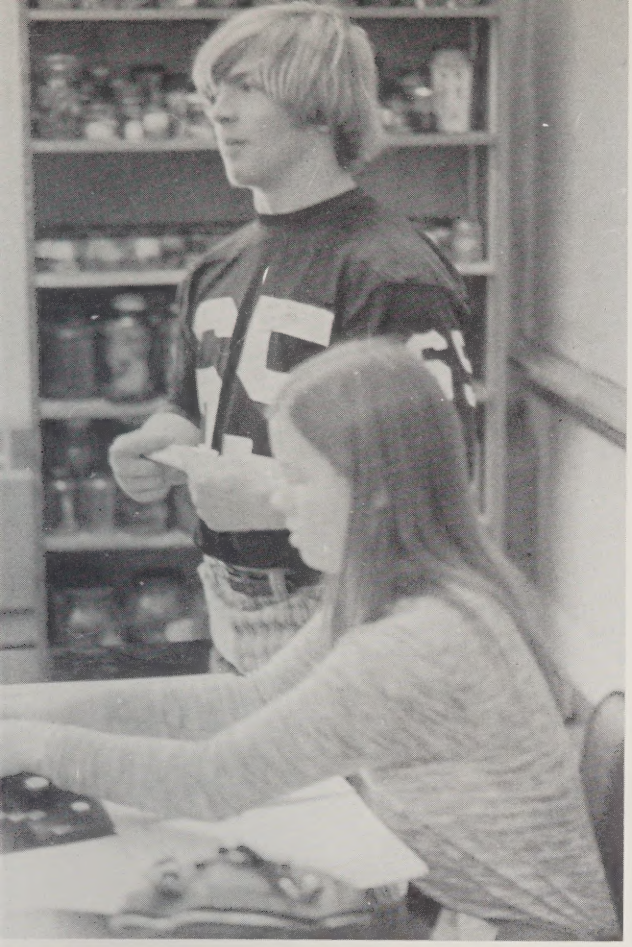
Filled with dancing and music supplied by the "Idle Movement," prom night was a memorable evening for both juniors and seniors. The Skyland Hotel provided the setting for the celebration of the "Age of Aquarius" by girls in long, flowing gowns, and their escorts in colorful tuxedos. The occasion was planned and hosted by the junior class under the direction of class officers and sponsors, Miss Messer and Mr. Summey.

Voice of Democracy

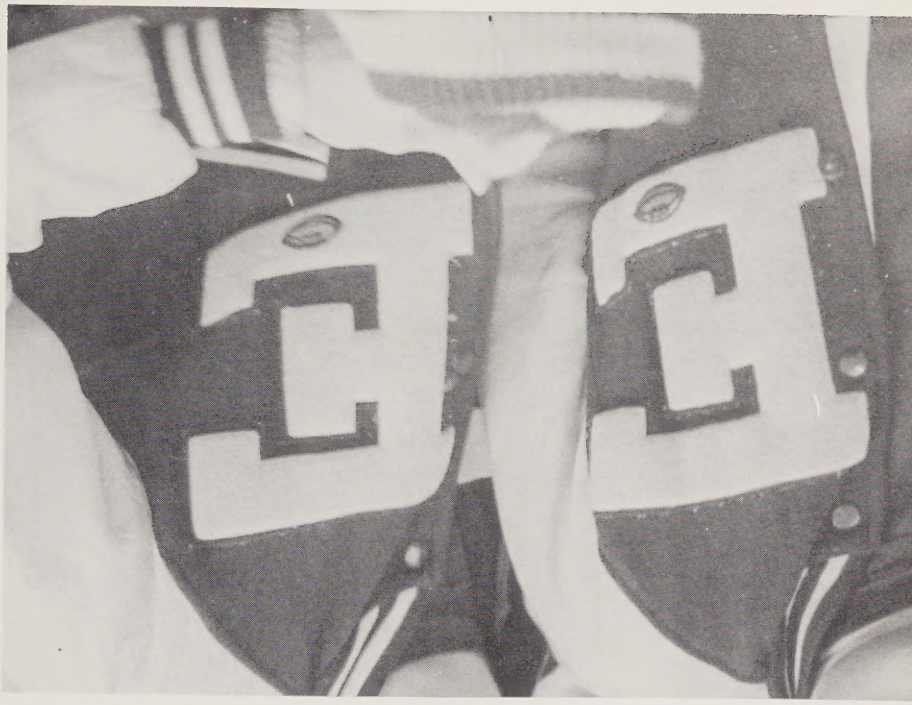
The annual Voice of Democracy Contest, directed by Mr. Summey and the history department, produced original speeches with emphasis on patriotism. Polly Holbert, winner, along with Mary Marlowe and Denice Jones, second and third place winners, left the audience concerned about their responsibilities for freedom.

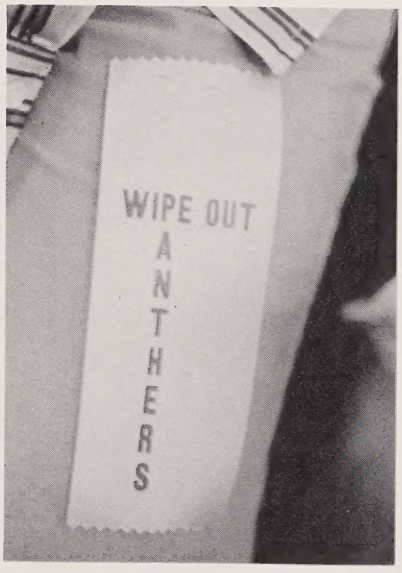






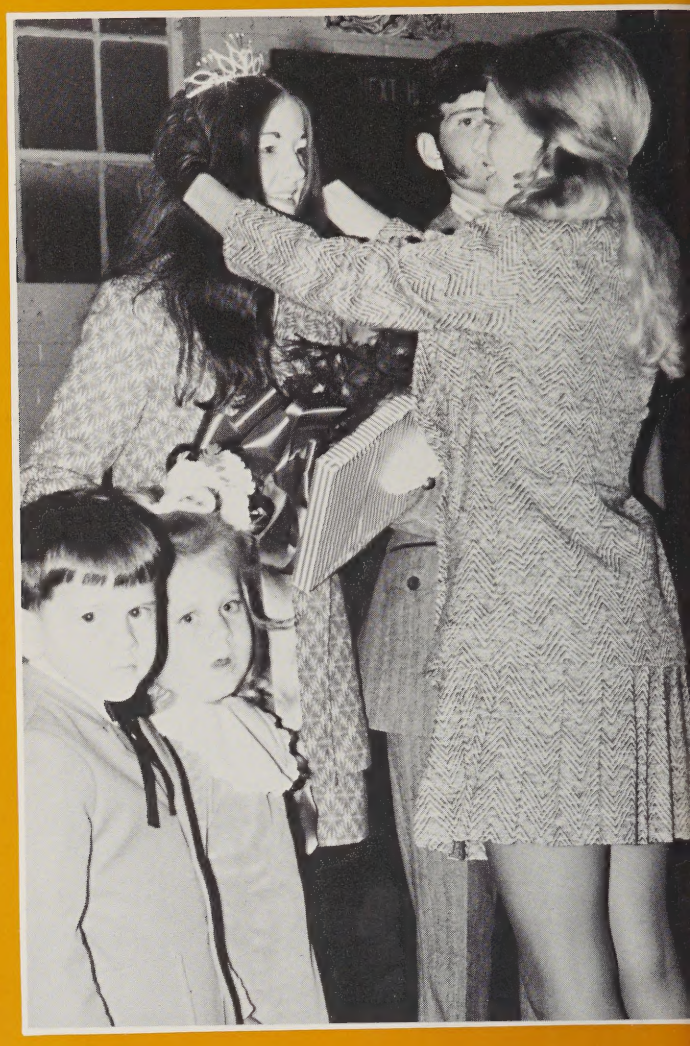
Monogram Club



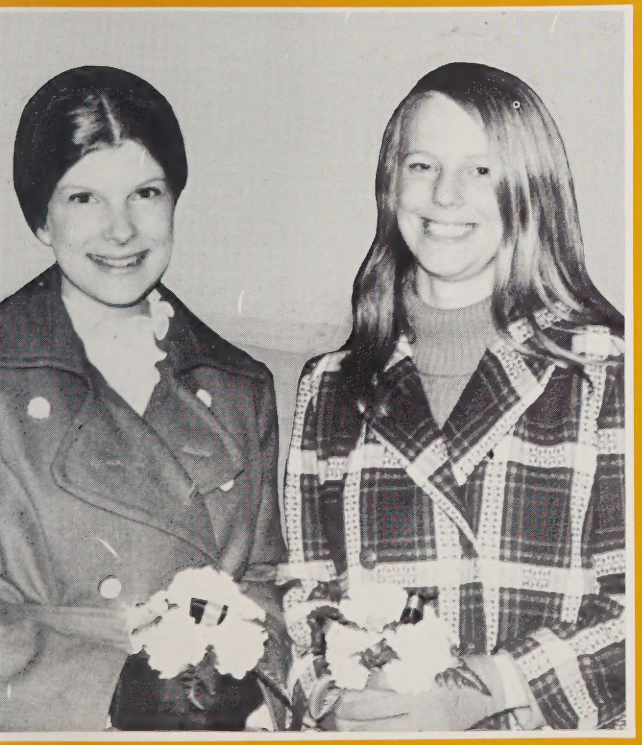


The primary purpose of this club is to honor the school's varsity athletes who have lettered in their sport. The Monogram Club has been a welcome addition to the school's cluster of service organizations. This year's Monogram Club officers are President Steve Burgess, Vice-President Tommy Corn, Secretary Vickie Pryor, Treasurer Janet K. Laughter, and Reporter David Henderson.

Homecoming Court



For the queen, there is that moment of fear and disbelief. Through tear-stained eyes she looks at her throng of subjects who were, just yesterday, fellow students. The gymnasium is her castle and, for one glittering night, Rhonda and her court rule the Edneyville Homecoming. Rhonda Stepp, queen, reigned over the homecoming court, composed of seniors, Janet Laughter and Diane Walker; juniors, Sharon Pryor and Vickie Pryor; sophomores, Loretta Pryor and Denise Justice; and freshmen, Janet Jones and Joy Harrell.



Beta Club

The Beta Club displayed its concern for the surrounding community by giving a Thanksgiving dinner to a needy family. Donating toys for underprivileged children at Christmas time, awarding scholarships for seniors, and serving the Senior Tea were their projects. Wayne Burley presided over this society, which was established to honor those with high academic averages. Serving as other officers were vice-president, Marilyn Pryor; secretary-treasurer, Rhonda Stepp; and reporter, Mike Pack.

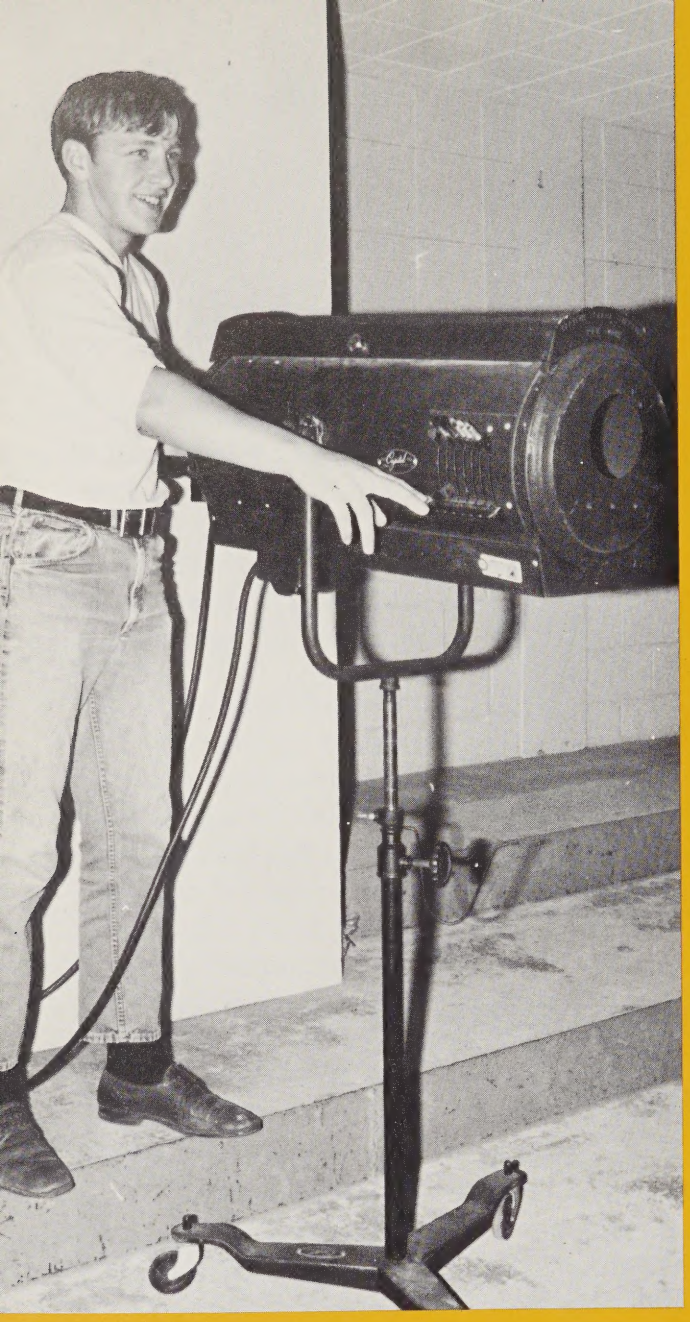
1971 Marshals

The marshalls for the 1971 graduation were Chief Marshall, Gayle Booth; Rita Dalton; Janet K. Laughter; Marilyn Pryor; Pauline Laughter; Wayne Burley; Doug Moon; and David Henderson.

Prominent and Versatile Students

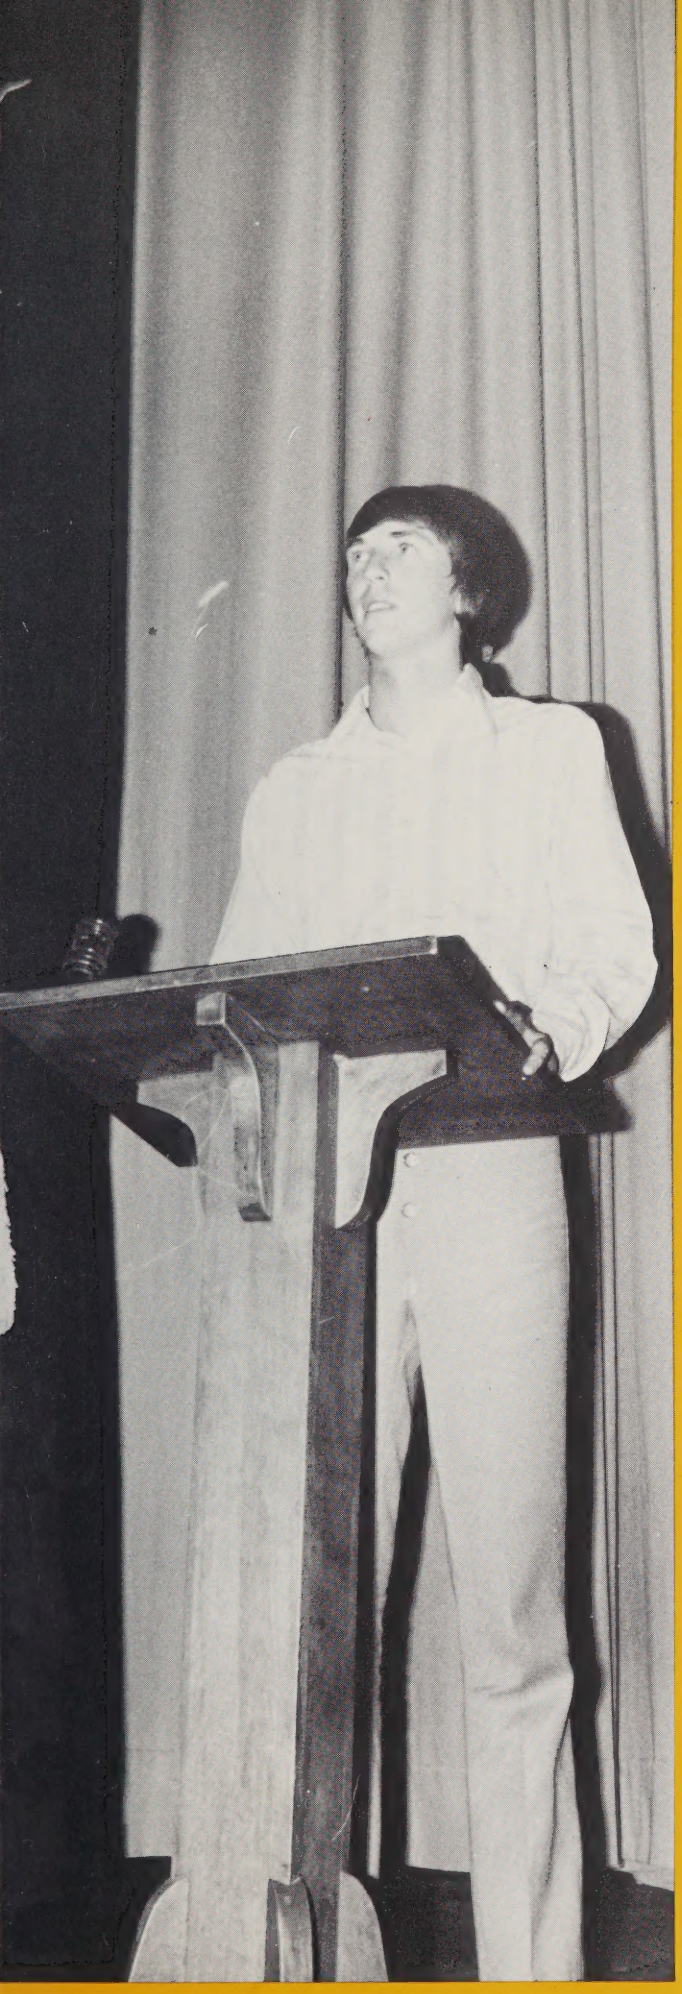
In the following section are pictured seniors who were considered by their teachers to be outstanding in their distinctive contributions to the school. Their talents and abilities ranged from athletics to scholarship. Their talents in music and art were considered. Leadership and attractive personalities were recognized.

Wayne Burley was noted for his scholastic achievement and for his creative abilities in art and music.



The large hands and capable mind of David Henderson were forever delving in the studies and club work.

Gayle Booth, a promising scholar with a unique musical talent, brightens the school with her various abilities.



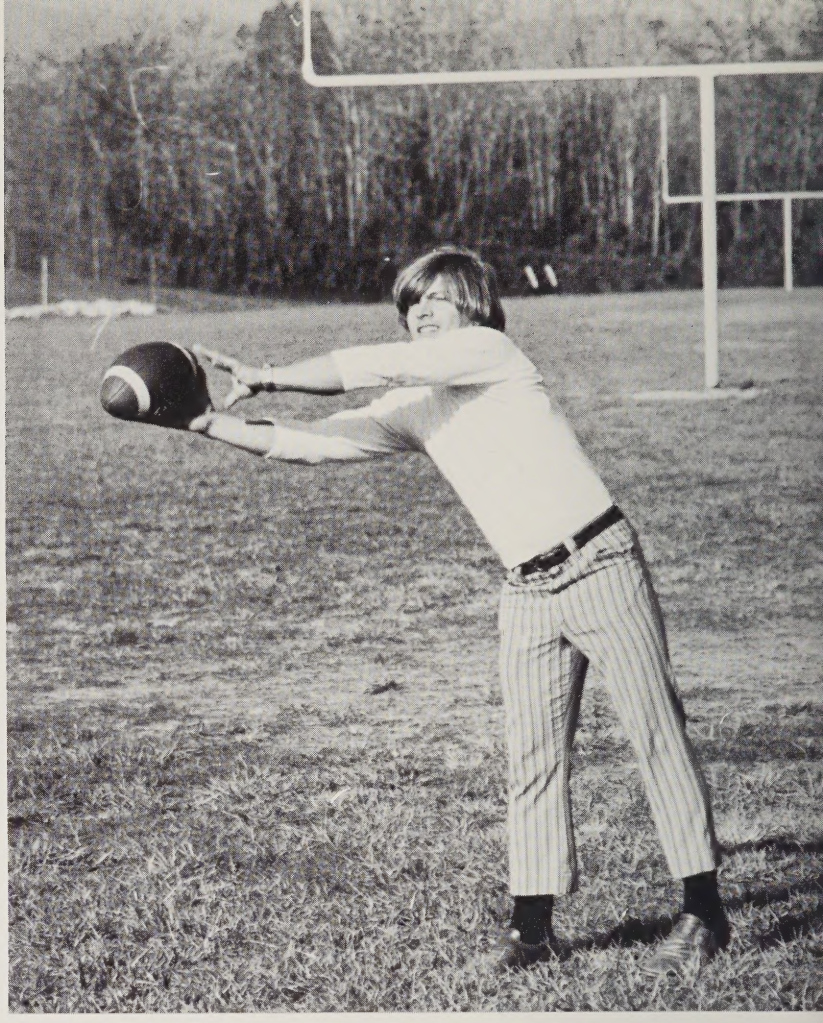
Doug Moon, LEFT: elongates his abilities acting as president of the student body and Lieutenant Governor of the Key Club, while maintaining a high academic average.

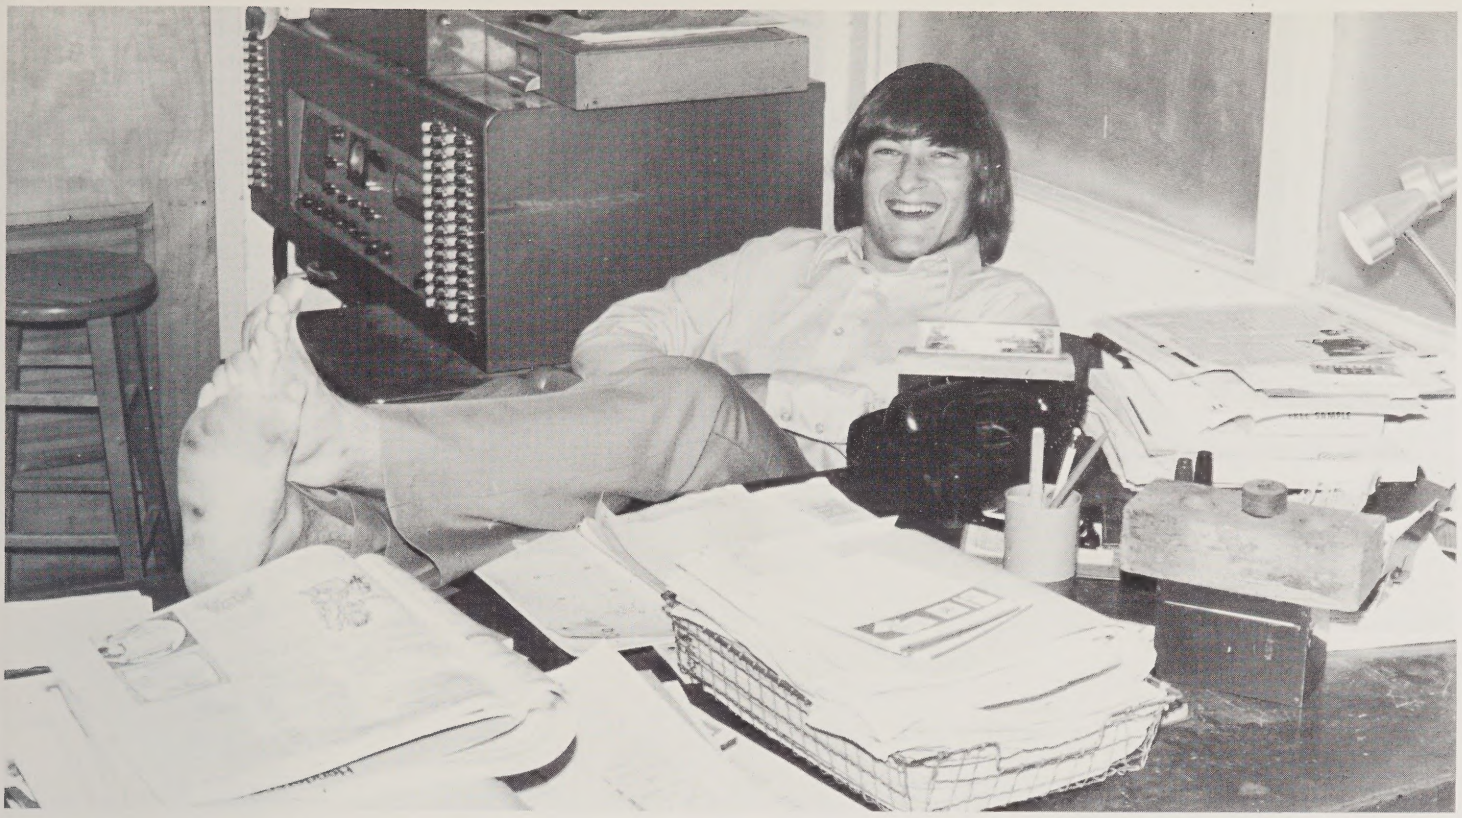
Diane Krug, ABOVE: exudes willingness to help in any way.

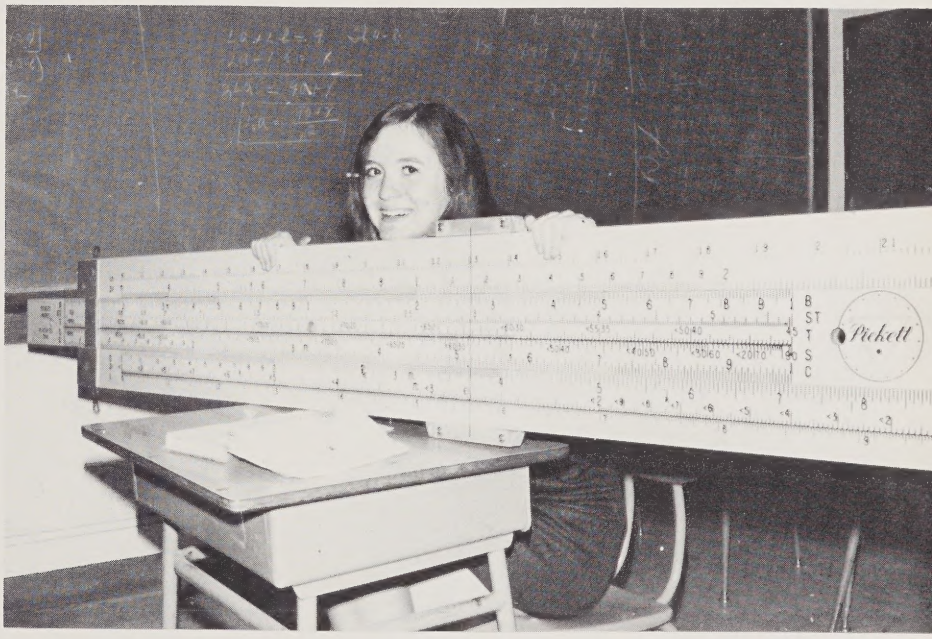
Flaring like a lighted match, Karen Youngblood, (BOTTOM LEFT:) was always eager to render her services to club work around the school.

Steve Burgess, (TOP:) presided over the Monogram Club with the same determination he threw into a football game.

Seeming as though Rhonda Stepp, (BOTTOM RIGHT:) was born to lead, she served as both president of the senior class and of the chorus.







Tommy Corn, TOP: using his wit and friendly nature kept the activities at Edneyville in a good perspective.

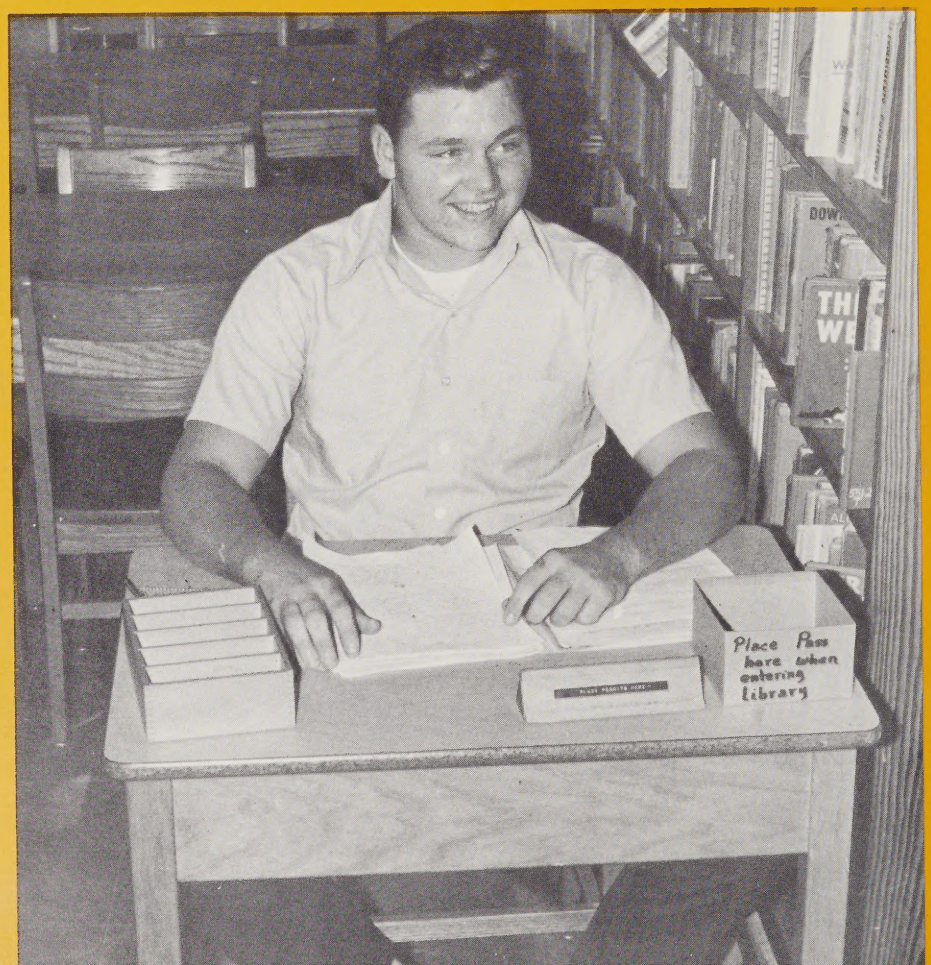
Denice Jones, BOTTOM LEFT: an active and responsible F.H.A. president, did much to fulfill her role as leader of the F.H.A.

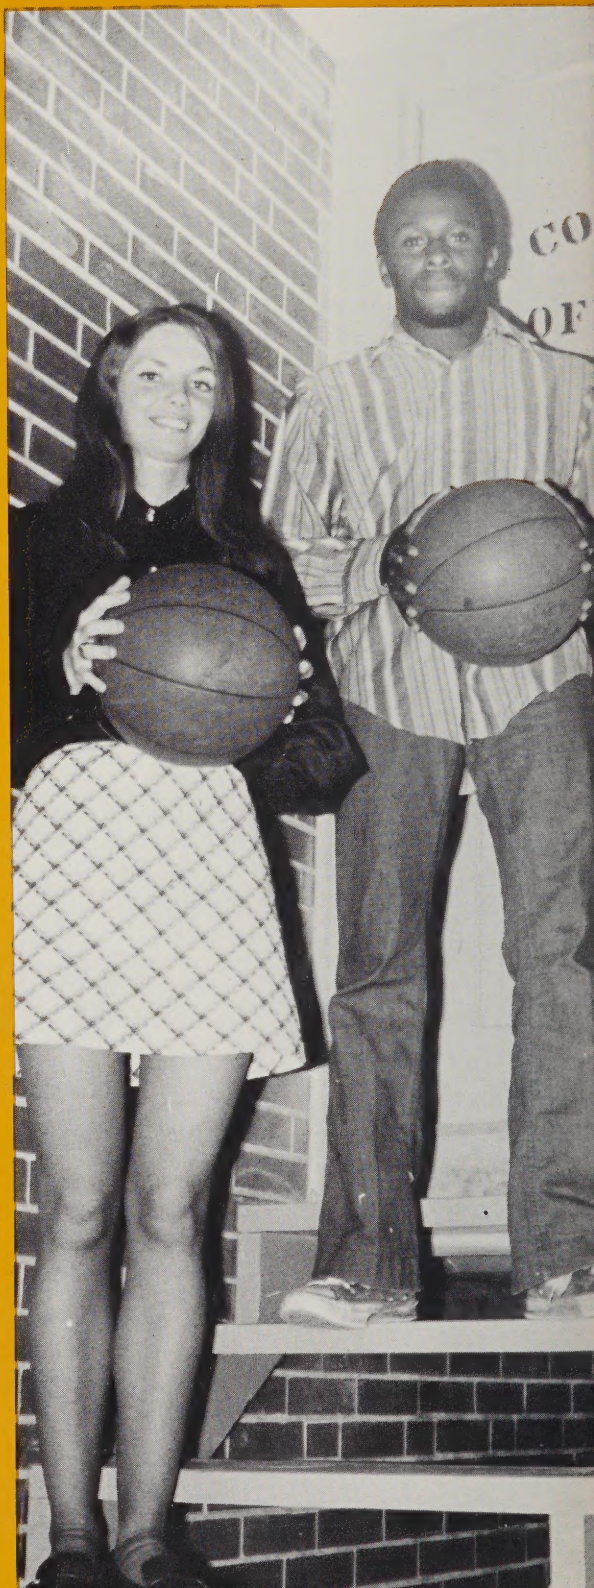
Rhonda Freeman, BOTTOM RIGHT: proved that co-operation and congeniality are important.

If wisps of red hair and a camera could be seen, it was certain to be Jay Rogers, TOP: taking pictures or helping in the Key Club concession stand.

Past the office, and the second floor on the LEFT: Oscar Morgan could be found assisting students in the library.

When it came to athletics, Marilyn Pryor and Joe Wilfong, BOTTOM RIGHT: were invaluable assets to the Edneyville teams.





Acting a bit light headed most of the time Nancy Parris, TOP: could get serious when it came to art and writing.

Smooth and neat, Pauline Laughter, BOTTOM LEFT: was an invaluable secretary and business manager of the annual.

Champions

Football, 1971, was long practices on hot days ...running sprints until you feel sick ...starting the season with twenty players that have a championship in their minds... endless bus rides to nowhere...giving all you can give, and then some, during a game ...guts, teamwork, and a desire to win... being champions...widening horizons for next year. In the opening game of the 1971 Western 2A Football Playoffs Edneyville's hard hitting head-hunting Yellow Jackets proved that if they could remain healthy, they would be the team to reckon with during the playoffs. The Jackets crushed Franklin and "All WNC Back" Randy Chastain with a tenacious defense and overwhelming offensive attack 28-6. But the Jacket's plan for upcoming Maiden was seriously hampered by the injuries to Edneyville's starting backfield.

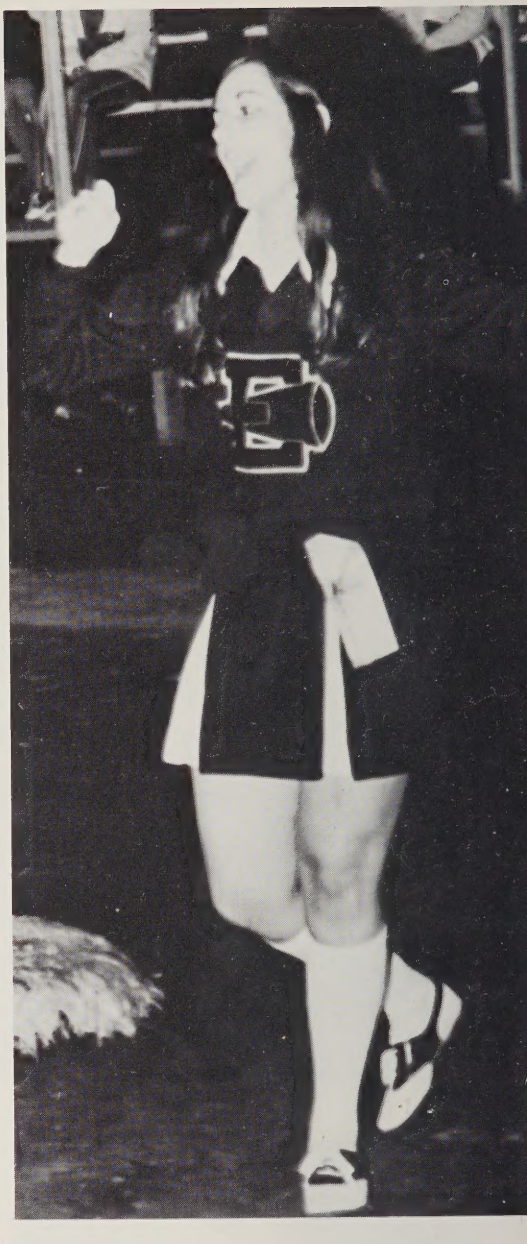
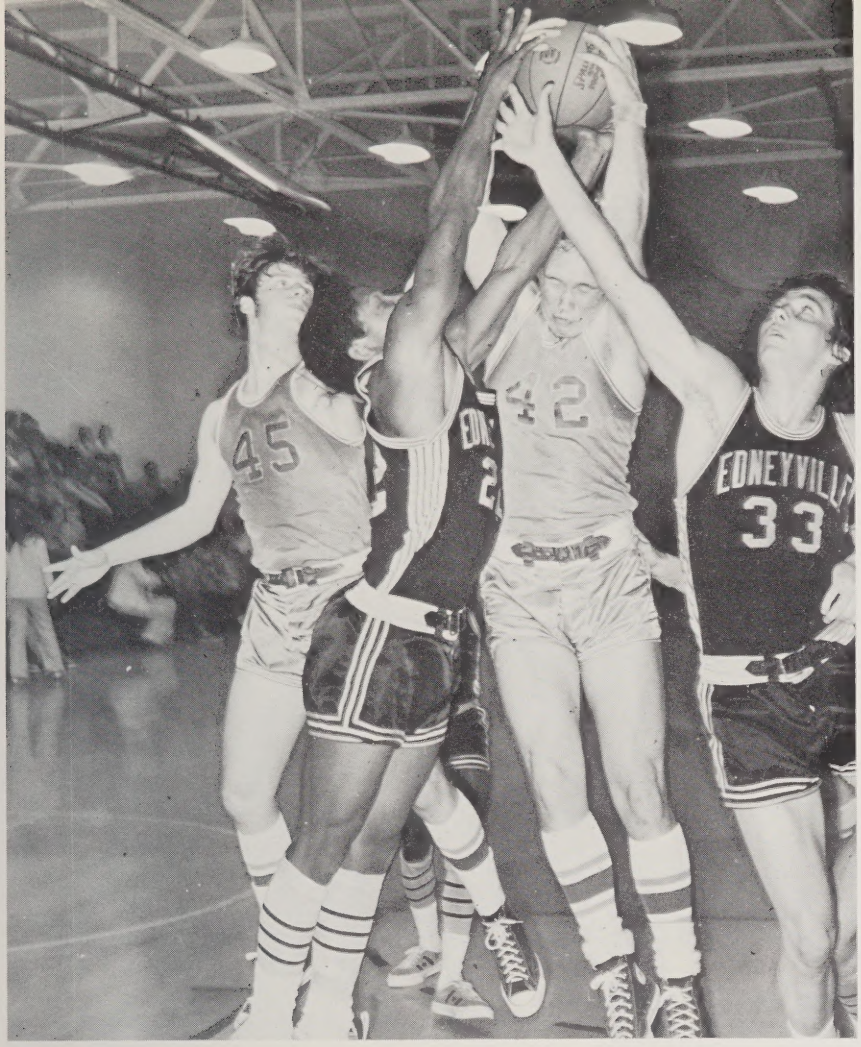
Varsity cheerleaders

Brimming with enthusiasm, the Jacket cheerleaders jumped head-long into the athletic seasons with ribbon sales, pep rallies, and vigorous cheering.

Under the leadership of Captain Diane Walker and the sponsorship of Miss Margaret Blocker, the cheerleaders have spearheaded their teams to victories in both boys and girls varsity action.

The cheerleaders are, BOTTOM, L-R: Denice Jones, Mary Marlowe, Rhonda Stepp, Diana Walker, Capt., Debbie Harrell, Sandy Youngblood, Shirley McCraw.





Boys' varsity basketball

To reach out, to exceed--this is basketball.

The basketball season began uncertainly, but under the leadership of Captains Joe Wilfong and Lewis Waters, it gained momentum and proved to be an exciting one.
The scoring abilities of other members such as Russell Lyda and Harold Pryor add further to the Jackets' ability to at least exhaust the opposing team.

You claim you travel to a drummer with a different beat . . . that your parents don't understand or dig the bag you're in . . . Hold it! We are not trying to jump on your case or put you down. But look at this side of the coin . . .

We'd Like a Few Friendly Words with You:

WHAT'S ALL THIS BIT ABOUT A GENERATION GAP?

Pardon us, if we sound as though we're preaching about the so-called "generation gap." We don't intend to sermonize. Because, we know that young men and women like yourselves have learned a lot—and are determined to learn a lot more, preferably without any lectures from the older generation.

But we're against "gaps"—generation or otherwise. And we suggest that we all gain from the insights and progress made by those who've lived before us.

Consider these factors:

YOUR PARENTS AND GRANDPARENTS are the people, within just five decades, who have helped increase your life expectancy by almost 50% . . . while reducing the working day by one-third, and doubling our nation's per capita output.

THESE SAME PEOPLE have lived through history's greatest depression. Many know what it is to be really poor, to be hungry, cold, sick, uneducated. Because of this knowledge, chances are they were determined—though they may never have told you so—that yours would be a better world . . . that you'd have greater opportunities to succeed than they.

BECAUSE OF THEM, you will work fewer hours. Learn more. Have more leisure time. Travel to more distant places. And have more of a chance to follow your life's ambition.

THESE SO-CALLED "UNTOGETHER PEOPLE" made a start, perhaps a late one, in healing the scars of the earth . . . eliminating pollution, fighting racial discrimination. They've done many things. And they have had some failures. They have not found an antedote to war or hatred.

AND WHILE WE CONGRATULATE YOU on the milestone you've just reached. We also by indirection congratulate your parents and their parents.

WE HOPE YOU'LL SHARE OUR VIEWPOINT. We hope you'll build on past progress instead of magnifying any so-called generation gap! As you take your place in the adult world, you'll want to benefit from the work that's gone on before you. And you'll want to add to the progress of mankind. That's what life is really all about.

Discovering ourselves,
Finding greater and higher horizons
Than in the vast reaches
Of outer space,
We dare
To delve deeper,
To think unthought thoughts,
To explore the infinite possibilites
That confront us in a complex universe.

Horizons,
Endless,
Beckon us onward.
We will not be suppressed.
We will be free to continue
To search,
To think,
To find
The ever widening horizon.
